

BIODIVERSITY BLITZ Challenge

Keep your CRITTERS COOL this spring with their own WATER STATION

Lizards in your yard have enormous appetites, which makes them great pest controllers. By providing lizards easy access to water, they will be more likely to hang around and hunt. Low to the ground water sources will also provide insects and birds with a drink when they need it.

Ground level water stations need sticks and stones in them to help prevent animals from drowning.
